

Red Flag Quick Guide for Authors

A fast, high-level overview of warning signs that may indicate a scam

Unsolicited Contact

Unexpected emails or calls
Claims they "found your book"
No clear reason of contacting you

Too Much Praise, Too Quickly

No evidence they your work

"Offer are pirsing
destrpires
read your works

Unsolicited Prize

Overaly enhusatic
compliments

Generic flattrery

Attempnce they Attempts they read your work

Urgency and Pressure

"Offer expires today"
"Only one slot left"

No clear pricing
Evasise answers

Suspicious Online Presence

- Generic

No real staff bios Minimal social activity

Insosistent or Poor Communication

- Guaranteed
- Grammar issues

Changing names or ettivity

Grammar issues

Changing names or emails
Replis that dodge your questions

Unrlalistic Claims

Guarnteed besteller status Promises of major mediis to big publishers

Note: This guide offer a quick overview. For deeper explaations, real examples, and-step-protection protection strategies, refer to Nancy Catherine Scammer Playbook Exposed

